DEMOCRATS ARE GETTING BUSY

City Committee Meet Tonight
—Mayor Ladd for Third Term.

The Democratic city committee will hold its first meeting tonight for the municipal campaign preliminaries. If nothing develops to upset the present plans the city committee will offer the name of Dr. S. T. Ladd for the third term. It is also understood that Samuel W. Emery will make another try for the board of assessors and is out for this nomination. It has been practically decided that Fred E. Hasty will be the party candidate for the board of public works. An effort is being made to have the present members of the city council elected at large, run again. However, if there should be a change made, Raphael Costello, an active member of the Chamber of Commerce, is mentioned as a likely candidate. The democrats of ward three will likely be obliged to pick a new man for the council from that ward, owing to the fact that Councilman Sullivan has served three terms and would not consider the nomination owing to his present employment at the navy yard.

Many soldiers were killed on both the federal army and Villa's forces. A number of women and children, citizens of the city, are thought to have been injured.
After crossing the Rio Grande, the federal troops surrendered to Captain Theodore Barnes in command of the forces along that section of the river.

HEARING ON PASSENGER AND FREIGHT RATES

If Applications for Increase Are Allowed Tariff Revision of Class Rates Will Be Filed

Boston, Nov. 15.—A joint hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission and the several state commissions of New England will open in Boston on Wednesday, Nov. 21, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon upon the applications of the Boston & Maine railroad and other carriers of New England for authority to file tariffs providing for increases in both their passenger and freight rates. These applications have been filed in accordance with a Federal statute recently enacted.

The applications of both the Boston

& Maine railroad and the Maine Central railroad, if allowed, will authorize these carriers to file tariffs making a revision of their present class rates, it being proposed to place in effect the scale of class rates prescribed last July by the Interstate Commerce Commission for carriers in the Central Freight Association territory, plus an increase of 15 per cent. They cite as justification for the proposed increases the recent wage increases, increased fuel costs, increased cost of materials and other items cited in the so-called fifteen per cent case, which was before the Interstate Commerce Commission last summer. Generally speaking, the proposed rates beginning with the scale of five miles are uniformly in excess of the existing class rates until distances for 240 miles are reached, where the rates are the same as the present rates. For distances in excess of 240 miles the proposed rates are lower than the present rates.

The relationship between scale A and scale B rates will not be disturbed. The rates used for scale B are 116 2-3 of the scale A first class rates. This relationship was established by the New Hampshire Public Service Commission when it promulgated a scale of class rates in 1914, which scale is now in effect save that it was increased by 15 per cent on August 1, last.

The class A rates will be applied upon the principal trunk lines of the Boston & Maine railroad, while scale B will apply upon all its other lines. The application of the Maine Central railroad provides that scale B rates shall apply upon all local traffic.

Upon first class traffic scale A produces for five miles and under a rate of 18 1-2 cents and scales up to 49 cents for distances of over 250 miles. The increases in the rates for classes 2 to 6, inclusive, are not as great as upon first class traffic for the reason that a change in the relationship of these classes to the first class is more favorable to the secondary classes.

The Maine Central railroad also asks for an increase of 15 per cent in its commodity rates.

The Public Service Commission has stated that it is practically impossible to issue a statement indicating exactly the increases upon the various classes and for various distances, but that full information relative to the changes is upon its files, and that specific information will be furnished to individual shippers upon inquiry.

The application of the Boston & Maine railroad for changes in its passenger rates proposes an increase in mileage rates, from 2 1-4 cents per mile to 2 1-2 cents per mile, and an increase in one way fares from 2 1-2 cents to 2 3-4 cents per mile. It proposes also to discontinue the ship of 50-trip tickets, good for seven months, and to sell instead a 25-trip family ticket, good for the purchaser, members of his family or servant employed therein, and limited to three months from the date of sale. The rate proposed for this ticket is 2 1-4 cents per mile, which is an increase of 1-4 cent per mile over the old unlimited 50-trip ticket. The Maine Central railroad having recently placed in effect increases in its passenger rates, proposes no further change.

EXETER

Exeter, Nov. 15.—An alarm was rung in at 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning for a fire in the residence of Mrs. Maria G. Hunter of School street. A quick response was made by the auto chemicals, the blaze being around the chimney. Mrs. Hunter and sisters, Mrs. Wentworth and Mrs. Knapp were aroused by the neighbors in time to escape the effects from the smoke, which was fast filling their bed room. The fire originated from the chimney, the smell of smoke from it being very strong early in the evening and it is likely that it started then and broke out in the early morning. Most of the damage was done by smoke although it was necessary to tear away most of the partition to get at the flames. Two views from the cupola of the town hall were taken yesterday morning by Gilbert C. Haley, local photographer, engaged by E. L. Cunningham. It is probably the first time that the feet was ever accomplished. The figure of the Goddess being removed temporarily made standing room on the top for the work of the photographer.

The Current Events and Civic Department of the Exeter Woman's club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. William Burlingame on Main street. The program consisted of current events: "Cats, their Good and Bad Habits," by Mrs. William Segerblom; reading, "Frisby," by Miss Grace R. Lamson and discussion presided over by Kate Davis on "Resolved, That Cats Shall be Licensed." Rev. F. J. Libby of the academy faculty will speak on "The Mountain Whites" at the meeting of the Thursday club at the Phillips church tomorrow afternoon. It will be a missionary meeting.

Electric lights have been installed in the Robinson seminary yard in accordance with the vote at the last town meeting. It is now lighted from all three entrances, Main, Lincoln and Front streets.

COLONIAL TO HAVE SOME GREAT ACTS

The management of the Colonial has announced that some exceptionally fine features in vaudeville have been secured for this favorite theatre for the near future. In the present bill, the offerings are the most even seen on one program in this city at popular prices. There are three fine acts, with one act presenting no less than ten people. This is the act of the Eight Liberty Bells, a miniature musical comedy with special scenery, funny comedians, pretty girls, catchy music and everything that goes to make up a big time offering.

Another good act at this show is Dave Glover, direct from Kiehl's Philadelphia Theatre where he was featured in a good spot on a program of twelve acts.

An act that is certain to cause lots of comment and sure to be the biggest in point of applause is that of Gess and Newlands, one of those clever duos of modern vaudevillians, with a line of bright material and handled in a manner that stamp them as regulars.

The pictures for this show comprise some well known stars. Petrova is seen for the first time today in "To the Death," while tomorrow and Saturday, Fanny Ward comes in a new Paramount entitled, "The Unconquered."

A new added feature is the well known comedy cartoons of Mutt and Jeff, Bud Fisher's productions in animation, something entirely new to the Portsmouth patrons and a genuine novelty.

The Pathe News as usual is a part of the program, a new series starting today.

The naval patrol that takes care of the enlisted men about the city is a great success. They work in complete harmony with the police, making their headquarters at the station and their work is very effective.

WAR COUNCIL MAY CAUSE TROUBLE

England Objects to Inter-Allied Council Fearing Loss of Control

(By Associated Press)

London, Nov. 14.—The proposed inter-allied war council was brought before Parliament today, through the questioning of former Premier Asquith, of Premier Lloyd George on the subject of the council.

The Premier in reply read the text of the agreement of the Council and outlined the work that it was proposed to do, and he emphasized the fact that the Council had no executive power. The Council is to prepare recommendations for the consideration of the government and the general staff will be in charge of all military operations and be responsible to their own governments.

Premier George finds himself facing the greatest crisis of his government over this matter of the inter-allied war council, which has been received in England with ill grace, and it is possible that before the discussion is over that a vote of confidence will be demanded and should this be adverse, the present government would automatically go out of office. The fear that the international council would take away the government control of the war effort is the trouble.

CIGARETTES HINDER ARMY SURGEONS

(By Associated Press)

London, Nov. 15.—Army surgeons display growing uneasiness on the subject of excessive cigarette smoking among wounded and convalescent soldiers. Kindly people shower cigarettes on men who are struggling back to health, and by this means, say the doctors, retard recovery and even do permanent injury to health.

The report of a London military hospital superintendent says: "Nobody objects to an invalid who smokes three or four cigarettes a day, but there is grave danger in 15 per cent. A patient returning to the hospital after a day's leave is often found with an irregular pulse due to too much cigarette smoking. This interferes with sleep and leads to a general lowering of vitality."

BALL PLAYERS GET BIG MONEY

New York, Nov. 14.—Some idea of the amount of money that falls to the share of a big league baseball player, who is fortunate enough to participate in several World Series, can be gained from a recent compilation showing the winnings of various players who have figured in such post-season contests in the past few years. Jack Barry leads the list with $17,937, as a result of his participation in six series. Eddie Collins, who has also figured in an equal number of world championship contests, a member of the Philadelphia Athletics or the Chicago White Sox, is second having amassed $14,580.

Jack Coombs has collected $13,627; "Chief" Bender, $11,743; Eddie Plank a like sum; and Johnny Evers, $7,983. This quartet of players figured in five series. Amos Strunk, John McInnes and Frank Baker played in four series, while members of the Philadelphia Americans, and their reward was $10,911 each. All things considered, Larry Gardner, Forest Gady, Harry Hooper and Duffy Lewis, of the Boston Red Sox probably hold the record as each of them won $11,050, by playing in three series. Christy Mathewson collected $9,525, in the form of extra dividends while a member of the New York Giants. Charley Hozer and Arthur Fletcher came in for $8,713, due to their membership in the "same team." "Chief" Meyers, Rube Marguard and Fred Merkle won $8,881, while playing for the Giants and the Brooklyn Nationals.

President Wilson has recently called upon "this nation to make a special offering to help save this people."

The Baptist, Methodist and Congregational churches will omit the usual week night meetings. It is hoped that the general public will be interested to attend; as the opportunity to hear Mr. Papazian is an unusual one.

The treasurer of the local committee is John M. McPhee, who will receive donations at the First National Bank.

VALUABLE MINES WHERE NAPOLEON WAS IMPRISONED

Portoferraio, Isle of Elba, November 15.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—This island, celebrated as the place where Napoleon was imprisoned in 1814, has since Italy's entrance into this war attracted much attention as the source of valuable iron mines.

In view of the scarcity of iron mines in Italy and the difficulty of transporting ore or pigs from the United States for use in the munition factories, the mines of Elba have given a new importance to the island. Travelers on the Genoa-Rome express, which skirts the seashore of the mainland, permitting a view of a clear day of the blue island rising out of the water, six miles distant, think rather of the tall foundry stacks in the foreground at Ploembo than of the great soldier of other wars.

In the days before this war this express stopped at Campitella, to put off tourists for Ploembo and Elba. Today it stops to put off business men, skilled iron workers, Italian soldiers and their Austrian prisoners interned on the island. The side tracks at Campitella have been enlarged since the war, too, for the purpose of handling the large quantity of iron freight brought over from Elba.

Napoleon's name has almost been forgotten on the island, so busy are the inhabitants with war work. "How can I get to the Villa San Martin?" a visitor inquired of a workman. The workman looked at the visitor blankly, when the visitor added: "You know, the place where Napoleon used to live." The man shook his head. "I'm a newcomer here. Never heard of the place."

Finally an old native volunteered the information: "It's the house on the top of the hill there, above the harbor. Nearly burnt up last month when the woods in back got afire." That was all. No offer of guides to show the way to the old villa, to the seat on the promontory, where the baffled Emperor used to silently sit and gaze over the quiet blue sea, no offer to tell of the plans for his escape back to the mainland of Europe, previous to the Hundred Days ending in Waterloo and Helms.

At the town tobacco shop a bright-eyed little girl, selling the usual stock of newspapers and periodicals, when asked for some picture post cards of the villa, explained that they were out of print since the war. "Wouldn't it be fine if the Kaiser was captured and brought here, too," she said.

An Impressive Thought.

While all know that the Grand Army of the Republic is a passing organization and that in comparatively a few years the last post and the last member will be gone, it is impossible to restrain a feeling of sadness at the news that a Grand Army post has ceased to be.

But that posts are dropping out as well as members is all too true. Attention is called to this fact by the recent disbandment of a Woman's Relief Corps in a Massachusetts town. The post of which it was the auxiliary disbanded two years ago because of the fewness of its members; and there was no good reason for the further continuance of the women's organization. Consequently its affairs have been wound up, the funds in the treasury have been properly disposed of and the post and corps are things of the past. There is still a camp of Sons of Veterans in the town and a few remaining veterans, but the original organization and its worthy auxiliary are no more.

And this is something which must eventually come to every town in which there is a Grand Army post. One by one the members are answering the final roll-call, and when we reflect that the war in which they took part ended more than half a century ago we cannot but realize that the Grand Army of the Republic will in a few more years be but a memory.

But it will be a precious memory. The men who carried the war for the Union to a successful conclusion will pass away, but the memory of their valiant deeds will live forever. Impenishable is the fame of those who wore the Union blue in the dark days of '61 to '65. They fought for a great principle and their struggles were crowned with a victory which is one of the bright spots on the pages of human history.

Following that memorable and epochal war the Grand Army of the Republic was formed. It is an unique organization, in that it cannot be recruited. Its membership is restricted to honorably discharged soldiers and sailors of the Civil war, and for this reason the organization, under the laws of nature, cannot much longer endure.

But it has been honored from the beginning, it is still honored, and its memory will be honored and revered long after it has passed away.

The thought is especially impressive at this time, when another army of young Americans is battling for the same great principle that actuated the soldiers in the war of the rebellion. That they will do their duty equally well is beyond question. They are made of the same sort of stuff and their battle cry, like that of their honored predecessors, is "The battle cry of Freedom."

And those who come back, as we trust most of them may, will be honored like the brave men who have gone and are going before. True is it that "One generation passeth away and another generation cometh," a truth that applies to battle-scarred veterans as to other classes of men.

The men who robbed the Boston & Maine wrecking crew's car of its store of provisions a few nights ago at the round-house in this city did a good job toward reducing the cost of living. While the provisions last and the men remain free store bills will not trouble them greatly, and if they are apprehended they are liable to be provided with free board for a considerable period.

After giving what you can for the building of Y. M. C. A. huts for the soldiers there will be an opportunity to contribute to the Salvation Army, which proposes to invest a million dollars in "hutments" to serve a similar purpose. There is no limit to the disposition to do something worth while for the boys at the front.

A number of men have died in New York recently from the effects of drinking "war whiskey," of which wood alcohol is suspected to have been the leading ingredient. Apparently more stress should be laid on the conservation of wood alcohol, and, incidentally, life.

Places in the naval reserve are now open to volunteers from 18 to 58 years of age, a fact which should be of interest to those who want to get into the service. Particulars can be obtained at the patrol office of the local navy yard.

Now that the women of New York have the ballot, it is said they are preparing to place the slate in the dry column. Things are moving pretty rapidly these days, and not all of the activity is on the other side of the water.

The payment of about $75,000 a week in wages at the navy yard means something to Portsmouth, as the business men of the city hardly need to be told.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Living on Substitutes

(From the Springfield Union)

Coming from the German War Food Bureau, the report that 7000 substitutes for food are in use in Germany may be accepted as an accurate statement of fact, as no object would be gained by the food bureau in exaggerating the conditions that exist there. The report therefore officially establishes the fact that the food situation in Germany is exceedingly grave, as there would be slight demand for substitutes if the real articles could be obtained. Many of these substitutes, it is known, are absolutely worthless, counterfeiting in some degree the taste of the original articles, but lacking their sustaining and nourishing qualities. Others, with their flavorings derived from coal-tar products, are positively dangerous to health and their continued use is bound to result in serious stomach and intestinal disorders. In addition to the food substitutes, more than 3000 other substitutes are reported by the war food bureau to be in use. Many of these are designed to take the place of woolen and cotton clothing, leather, rubber and other articles used for wear and for household and mechanical purposes, besides the various substitutes used in the manufacture of war materials. In no case, however, does the substitute equal the counterfeited article, and in the great majority of cases the counterfeits are pitifully poor imitations. It is this situation that Germany is facing the fourth winter of war, with the civil population ill-clad, under-nourished, overworked and suffering from mental depression along with the great physical strain.

For China to Think Over

(From the Springfield Republic)

If China is aggrieved over the Lansing-Ishih agreement, concerning which no Chinese was consulted, it should be remembered that God helps those who help themselves—a saying which may not be found in the writings of Confucius yet contains a world of truth. Our Government has done its best for China. The Almighty could do much more, but He won't unless the Chinese develop a capacity to control their own destiny against marauding powers.

Humanity For War Prisoners

(From the New York World)

Our Government does not act too soon in moving through neutral nations for an agreement with Germany on the treatment of prisoners of war. A few American soldiers have been taken in trench warfare. A comparatively small number of Americans in civil life may be interned in Germany. We have 1364 actual prisoners of war, chiefly naval officers and sailors; while the 400 interned enemy aliens, unfortunately, are likely to increase in number as enemy activities continue. Men of both classes are and will be kindly cared for. They are well fed, well lodged, treated with consideration and permitted every privilege of exercise consistent with safe-keeping. Military prisoners have the pay and privileges of men of the same rank in our own forces, and can provide for themselves comforts, even luxuries. No one will ask Germany the impossible. A blockaded land cannot vie with us in liberality as to food. But through neutral agencies our men can be supplied with some necessities from home. At least there will be less bitterness to live down after the war if Germany avoids, in the treatment of American prisoners, some of the barbarities against prisoners of other belligerent nations which Ambassador Gerard and other unimpeachable witnesses have described.

"Whither the Tribes Go Up"

(From the Baltimore American)

The Turks are fleeing and the British are within a short distance of Jerusalem. The capture of the Holy City by the English would certainly put fresh heart into the whole Allied campaign for it would be one aim realized by the war of almost the whole Christian world, except the Teutons, whose god, Thor, has nothing in common with the hopes and prayers of Christian hearts.

Couldn't Find Their Sailor Boys So They Got Chummy With Marines.

Two young girls picked up by the police on Wednesday, were sent to Manchester today. The girls came here from Newburyport and had the same story as many others that they were looking for their lovers in Uncle Sam's service. These girls did not meet their real friends, two sailor boys, and did the next thing to making the acquaintance of two marines. They were both 20 years of age and made no hesitation about their visit to Portsmouth and their love for the deep water men.

SUIT OF LEWIS VS. BOSTON & MAINE IS CALLED TODAY

Asked $10,000 for Death of Plaintiff at Newburyport, Feb. 27, 1916.

The last jury case in the Rockingham county Superior court for the October term opened this afternoon. It is a suit of $10,000 against the Boston & Maine railroad, brought by Charles Lewis of this city, administrator of the estate of George Lewis. The case grew out of an accident at Newburyport on Feb. 27, 1916. The plaintiff, Lewis, with a ticket for Portsmouth, boarded the evening train and claimed that the doors of the car vestibule were closed, which prevented him from getting into the car. The writ alleges that he was obliged to hang on the hand irons of the car. The writ alleges that he was shanty or some other building east of the Newburyport depot, where he was knocked off and later died at Newburyport hospital as a result of his injuries. Ex-Mayor Robert E. Burke of Newburyport, Judge E. L. Guphill and R. C. Gray appear for Lewis and Attorneys Albert R. Hatch and George E. Hughes for the railroad.

A large number of railroad employees have been summoned as witnesses. The jury on the case are: Samuel L. Allen, foreman; Edward Madden, Howell M. Lamprey, Willis F. Darling, Horace L. Rowe, Elmer E. Glass, Adams E. Drake, James Fullam, Thomas E. Heron, Joseph B. Knight, William P. Bartlett, Louis Slesberg.

PEOPLES' OPINIONS.

Calls for Action

Editor: Permit me to say something in favor of fire department matters which your paper has so earnestly advocated in the past. I refer to the useless expenditure of money by the city in maintaining the several fire stations about Portsmouth. The calamity howlers can always be heard with the same old song, "Where is the money coming from?"

Where does the money come from for steady increase in the school and police departments? How about the costly street paving? In this question of less fire stations, and one central station, I claim it is the best move that the city could make. Why? If the city should build a central station the cost of the same would not be a big appropriation. A good start could be made by selling the Hanover street property, one of the best locations for tenements in the city, the old court house, the building and land occupied by the Salvation Army, the property where steamer 2 is quartered, the property on Bartlett street, a house owned by the city on McDonough street. This sale of property would not only bring over half the expense of a central station, but would make the property suggested for sale, taxable and start a revenue for the city.

To show the useless expense incurred by the present conditions of the fire department, one has only to visit the central station on Court street in the winter. For years, the city has wasted hundreds of tons of coal in trying to heat this building. No amount of coal or steam brings results and the building is so cold that gas or oil heaters are placed under the steamer to keep it from freezing up. At times the pumps have frozen, it is so cold there that the water sprinkled on the floor by the firemen in cleaning up, will freeze before the broom can be applied to the floor. The roof is in such shape that the rain comes down on the horses and it is necessary that the stalls be covered by canvas and otherwise protected.

Other stations are kept at an enormous expense for repairs, heat, light, etc., when with a central station the men of the several companies could assemble there for meetings and other occasions. The fire department should not be run for everything but fire protection, and it is time that the social end of it at the expense of the city was eliminated.

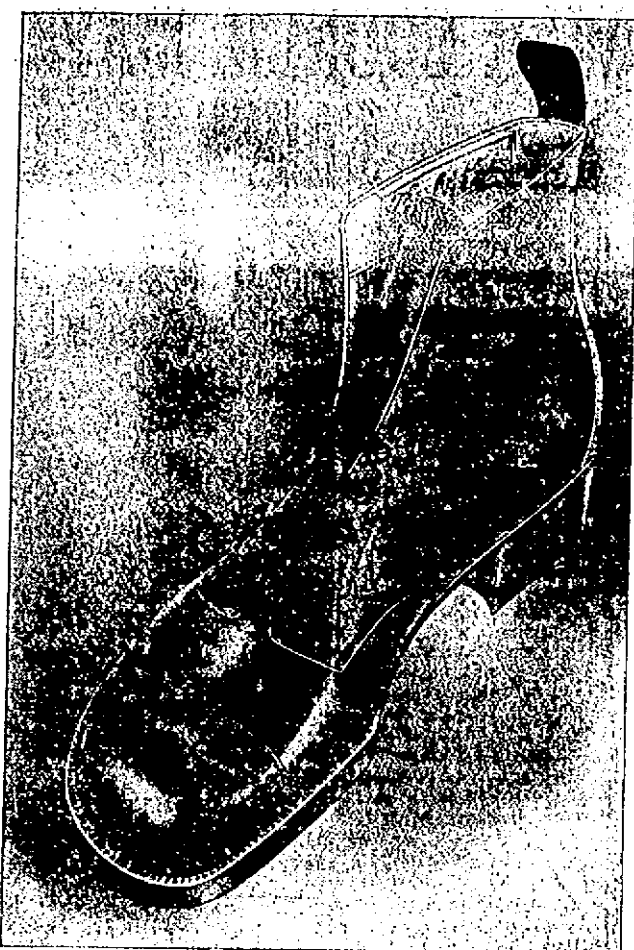

Politicians treat this matter with no concern and will refuse to act in fear of political threats of firemen. The time will come, and it is not far distant, when the city, regardless of politicians or firemen will be compelled to take this matter seriously. Portsmouth will find in 1918 with the taxes and water revenue lost from the brewing companies with no proportional share of the state liquor license money coming in, and increased state and county expenses coming in on account of the war, that the people will take a hand and force something to be done to meet the coming conditions.

A reorganization of the clerical and drafting forces of government navy yards and stations will go into effect shortly. It is designed to establish uniformity as to pay and promotion. Instead of differences in pay amounting even to only 8 cents per day between individuals, with promotion scales running from 8 cents to 48, the new scale creates a differential of 48 cents in the pay of higher grade men, with promotions to be made in increments of 48 cents per diem. In the lower grades the differential will be 24 cents per diem, and promotions will be made in increments of 24 cents.

Says He was Refused Aid

Captain Henry F. Bryan, commander of the second naval district, announced that he could get no help from either the state of Rhode Island or the city of Newport in improving conditions outside the naval station here and that he would report the situation to Secretary Daniels.

Sentries are on duty outside many places which naval officers consider dangerous to the welfare of their men, as a result of an investigation made last Spring by Secretary Daniels. Where guards had been withdrawn because of apparent improvement in conditions, naval officers have since found it advisable to replace them. Governor Beekman to whom Secretary Daniels appealed for co-operation in the matter last spring, is now in Europe to spend Thanksgiving with the Rhode Island troops and the forces from the other New England states.

There is every reason why every one should keep in close touch with the Portsmouth Herald. If you can spare a room or know of a house, have it inserted in The Herald.

Armenian and Syrian Relief

Address by Dr. M. G. Papazian

The speaker is a native of Armenia, a graduate of Yale University, a speaker of such power that he should be heard for himself as well as the cause.

THE SUFFERING OF ARMENIA IS THE GREATEST TRAGEDY OF HISTORY.

War does not stop effective relief distribution.

All gifts reach the destitute. All expenses met privately.

This race should be saved for the upbuilding and regeneration of the Turkish Empire.

RED TRIANGLE DRIVE WELL UNDER WAY

Over a Quarter of Total Objective Reached. Teams Making Thorough Canvas of Districts

The Red Triangle drive for war funds began in earnest on Wednesday, although $2500 had been secured by the teams previous to that time so that the thermometer on the Mechanic and Traders Bank building showed $2500 at noon which of course does not include Wednesday's collection.

All of the team captains started their work and there is considerable rivalry between the teams as to which one will be high line at the end of the drive.

As the city is divided up into districts and the team has until Saturday to complete the canvas, there were some not reached yesterday, but they need not worry they will be called upon.

All of the teams report that they were much pleased with their reception about the city. There were very few cases of absolute refusal, and while the contributions were in some cases not as large as was anticipated the general run is good.

About everybody seems well satisfied that the funds were needed and that they would go for the benefit of the enlisted men, so that the team members do not have to do as much talking as in the ordinary campaign to raise money.

It is planned to publish the names of those making donations the latter part of the week, and also the totals of the different teams.

In one place a gentleman said that he was getting quite familiar with the Red Triangle paper, for he has a friend in the American army in France that writes weekly on the Red Triangle, and in his letter received that same morning he said that it was the one place that there was a touch of home. He spends his spare time there in the huts and is taking lessons in French at the hut.

This city wants $10,000 and with one fourth subscribed already it should be reasonable to expect that the entire amount would be reached by the last of the week, although the last quarter will come much harder than the first which includes several large individual donations.

Quality Same As Ever

San Felice Cigar

Now 6c

As long as it was possible to do so we have kept down the price of the San Felice Cigar, so that it could be re-tailed for 5c. However, it becomes imperative for us to increase the price to 6c.
Taxation, raw material and wages have advanced so much during the past year that it is no longer possible to sell San Felice at the old price. To those smokers of fine taste who recognize in San Felice a cigar of unusual merit we ask your continued patronage. It is unnecessary to state that the same high standard of San Felice quality will be maintained. San Felice Cigar now 6c. The Delicat-Wares Co., Lima, Ohio.

IN TRAINING IN FRANCE

In a letter from Lieut. Frank Dooma with the artillery branch of the American army in France, received by

Hon. H. W. Yenton on Wednesday, he stated that they were hard at work with French artillery and that it was understood that they would have at least two months training before moving up to the front. He said that he was well and studying hard. He is taking lessons in French at the Y. M. C. A. hut and spends as much of his time as he can in the hut.

BASE BALL LEAGUES MUST RETRENCH

(By Associated Press)
Louisville, Ky., Nov. 14.—Settlement of the factional fight in the American league was reached today when the vote to redistribute the minor leagues was voted down. Mr. Hermann, chairman of the national commission, said that the next season's schedule would be carried out but that there must be a retrenchment on they could not exist.

AMERICANS TRAP GERMAN PATROL

(By Associated Press)
American Army in France, Nov. 14.—American infantrymen exacted a partial toll for the German raid, when they ambushed a large German patrol in the No Man's Land, killing and wounding the majority of the party and taking prisoners. The Americans with several French arranged the trap for the Germans in No Man's Land and the Germans fell into it with dire results.

CHILD'S TONGUE BECOMES COATED IF CONSTIPATED

When cross, feverish and sick give "California Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then use a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups, plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

U. S. DRIVERS TAKE AN ACTIVE PART

(By Associated Press)
Paris, Nov. 15.—American ambulance men played an important part in the recent heavy fighting on the Albanian front. The light cars of the Americans forged ahead over almost impassable roads keeping up with the victorious French armies and at one stage in the attack passing all units except the cavalry. Heavier machines found it impossible to negotiate the roads until they had been repaired.

The French advanced more than 30 miles in three days, a distance which they had planned to cover only after much resistance. Most of the heavy fighting occurred the first day when the French artillery cleared out nearly all of the enemy positions. At one point in the attack the French were forced to build a small pontoon bridge under the heavy fire of the Austrian guns. This completed, the Algerian troops forced ahead and could hardly be stopped. Many of them went two and three days without food as it was impossible for the supply trains to keep up with the advance. Casualties were light and there were few wounded soldiers for the ambulance men to transport to the rear.

Many Austrian prisoners taken by the French surrendered without the slightest resistance. When interviewed by their captors, they were invariably strong in their condemnation of the Germans, whom they blame for prolonging the war. They reported that their rations had been restricted to meat, bread and water and welcomed the food, including vegetables and coffee, which the French provided.

NORTHCLIFF MAY ENTER GOVERNMENT

SUFFRAGETTES SENTENCED

Washington, Nov. 14.—Thirty-one Woman's Party suffragettes were today sentenced to terms of from six days to six months in jail for picketing the White House Tuesday. Mrs. Mary A. Nolan, the 73-year-old suffragist from Jacksonville, Fla., was sentenced to six days and Miss Lucy Burns, a party leader, to six months. Mrs. John Winters Brannan of New York got 60 days, but may get double that when she is tried Friday for further picketing. The others, first offenders, got 30 days each.

RACING YACHT MAY BE SAVED

The report that Sir Thomas Lipton desires to purchase the historic racing schooner America in order to preserve her from destruction, recalls anew the adventurous career of the yacht which established the greatest international sporting classic of all ages. The clipper yacht America, was built in Brooklyn by George Steers and was commanded by Commodore John C. Stevens of the New York Yacht club, in her memorial race off Cowes, Isle of Wight, in 1861. The America's cup which has become the greatest sport trophy of the world, was won by the America in a race against the leading yachts of England in which the American entry finished first and the others nowhere. "Soon after this remarkable showing, Lord de Blaquiere purchased the America and later sold her to Lord Templeton. The latter sank the yacht in an accident on the Thames and after the boat had laid partly submerged for so long that a portion of her timbers rotted, she was purchased by a shipbuilding firm by the name of Pritchard. The yacht was rebuilt and next came into prominence as a blockade runner during the Civil war. In one of her trips she was scuttled to avoid capture. Later, being discovered by a Union gunboat, the America was raised and used by the navy.

Following the close of the war the America was put up at public auction and purchased by General B. F. Butler who entered her in several racing events but with indifferent success and eventually he used the yacht for cruising. For some years she had been berthed at Boston and several times reported about to be scrapped. At present the America is in the hands of a syndicate of Eastern Yacht club members who are apparently willing to sell the America to Sir Thomas Lipton, providing he will agree to preserve the yacht which was the original winner of the trophy which now bears her name.

GERMAN U-BOAT CAMPAIGN FAILING

(By Associated Press)
The German submarine campaign is waning and in the last week only six British merchantmen were sunk and only one of these over 1500 tons. This is the smallest list reported since the Germans started their ruthless warfare last spring and the decrease has been steady, showing the effective means being taken by the Allied fleets to suppress the U-boats.

While the Italians still continued to hold the line of the Piave river from the Adriatic to Sultre and through the northern hilly country to lake Garda, they have been compelled to give ground in some places, but are still well in command of the situation. Upon the shoulders of the line for a time, as General Maubert of the British staff announced today that it would be some days before the French and British reinforcements would not reach the Italian line.

In the meanwhile the Teutonic forces have been very active and they have reached Grisolera, four miles from the mouth of the Piave river and but twenty miles from Venice. Here the Italians have the advantage of the swampy country and they are confident of holding the line. On the western front the situation is unchanged, with only heavy artillery bombardments and raids.

The British drive against the Turks in Palestine still continues to be successful and the Turks in the past few weeks have lost very heavily in killed wounded and prisoners. A British torpedo boat and a mine layer were sunk by a submarine while working in conjunction with the land forces and thirty-two of the crew are missing.

The internal situation in Russia still remains obscure. The Finnish telegraph bureau says that the whole of Petrograd has been taken by the Kerensky forces. Another report is that Premier Kerensky has entered Petrograd and still another says that he has established his ministry in Moscow.

Practically every school in this city now has more than its quota of scholars, and still they come. The same is true of the Parochial school, where the registration is close to 500, and in the public schools it is nearing the 2000 mark. This is the average school population of a city of 15,000 inhabitants.

DEMOCRATS AGAINST THIRD TERM CANDIDATE

There is said to be a big upheaval among the Democratic city committee members over the insistence of Mayor Ladd to run again. The leaders have pictured what has usually happened when one attempts to defeat a party precedent. The up state leaders, have, it is said, ordered Ladd to let go, but he has, according to one of the local leaders, refused. The citizens are so enveloped in war matters that they are not thinking of politics, but from day to day matters are coming to the surface.

CLUB HAS A HOUSE WARMING

Close to 300 Knights of Pythias were present Wednesday evening when the members of the F. C. B. club celebrated the opening of their new home. All agreed that the opening exercises were a success and surpassed the plans of the committee in charge. The evening opened with all present singing national anthems. Late in the evening Mayor Ladd was able to attend. He delivered an eloquent address on the work of the club. The entertainment was a big success. Miss Gwendolyn Woods, Walter Eastman and Richard Weston, the two latter in uniform, presented a flag raising, while the City Band played "America."

The Lyric Quartet rendered several selections which met with great applause. Miss Zyltha Woods presented two costume dances. Miss Mildred Carl was the accompanist. Miss Emma L. B. Weston, an 18-year-old Miss, showed wonderful musical talent when she rendered two classics.

Words cannot explain the applause for little Miss Inez Dodge when she played a drum and traps selection. The mayor was not present at her first selection. When he arrived, by special request, the little 7-year-old "drummer girl" played for His Honor. Mrs. Stevens was the accompanist. The entertainment closed by all singing, "My Country 'Tis of Thee." Refreshments and dancing followed. Leon Robinson and the City Band furnished music for the dance.

The club had as their guests street.

--- TO THE ---

Citizens of Portsmouth MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Please bear in mind that the Red Triangle huts in the camps, the Red Triangle Cellars in the trenches in France, and elsewhere, must be discontinued unless we raise the fund that we are on this week. It does not stand in the same class with hundreds of other requests for money, all of which may be good. To keep the fighting spirit in our boys, and to keep their courage up, and to keep them clean and decent so they can fight, and win this war, we must continue those "huts." The money cannot be taken from the National treasury, "It must come from money volunteers. The man who will see his neighbor's boy volunteer his "life" and not be willing to give something of his "money" to help keep the courage in that boy to fight, is too mean to enjoy the protection of our flag. This money, and the huts and home life which it produces at the front are equally enjoyed by Catholic boys, Jewish boys, and any and every boy alike. The Knights of Columbus fund is doing the same kind of work and is just as praise-worthy, and all patriots should support this kind of work under whatever name. In war time "Y. M. C. A." means, that in order to lick the Kaiser, "Y"ou "M"ust "C"ome "A"cross. The people of Portsmouth must average at least seventy-five cents apiece. We must raise $10,000, or else we are not doing our share. Please send your contributions to Charles F. Shillaber, Treasurer, if the committees overlook you.

JOHN H. BARTLETT, County Chairman.

WANT WOMEN FOR CERTAIN WORK AT NAVY YARD

Government Will Hire Them for Assembling Work in Electrical Shops.

Well, girls, here is a chance for you to labor for Uncle Sam on good, clean work.

Since the country entered the war, women have been added to the clerical forces at the Portsmouth navy yard, now the government is going to place them in the mechanical forces. Naval Constructor L. S. Adams on Wednesday received word from the navy department to hire females for duty in the electrical shops for assembly work. This work is clean, and by no means laborious and can be done as well by women as by men. The work selected for women, is a branch which men and boys do not take to from the fact it does not present any opportunity to learn a trade. The maximum pay is $2.72 and the minimum is $1.68. Girls who want this work should get busy at once and report to the yard labor board office for registration. No application should be made at the Industrial Department offices.

This call for women in the mechanical department is the first in several years and the only other time in the history of the navy yard when women were employed, was the occasion when seamstresses were needed to work on flags and bunting.

PLANS NOVEL ENTERTAINMENT

Through the efforts of the Universalist church a novel entertainment has been arranged that will be presented Friday evening, Nov. 16, in the Pleasant street Universalist church, at 7.45.

Miss Marion Wilson, the entertainer, will present her unique and clever costumed character studies of historical types, people of fiction, every day folk and celebrities of the hour. Miss Wilson is known to have created a style of entertainment, distinctly her own,—daring in originality, artistic and picturesque; but of exceptional educational and moral value as well. Through the magic of her interpretation the most commonplace types assume interest and charm. We catch a glimpse of the real heart of humanity hidden beneath the masks of the work-a-day world. She re-embodies for us also the people of the Past, or gives a flesh and blood substance to the creations of the pen.

As an artist she is experienced, finished in technique and possessed of the inspiration and magnetism of true genius. Her versatility has proved astounding; her skill at transformation remarkable, and her voice is so powerful and flexible that she can impersonate male or female characters with equal facility.

Personally, Miss Wilson is winsome and vivacious; very business like and full of sparkle and ideas. She is a university graduate and Master of Arts—also the writer of many breezy articles, monologues and sketches, many of which are used in her own programs.

Thus it is not to be wondered at that this little woman has created an entertainment absolutely without competitors, "different" from all others; hearty approval of the general audience one that must win not only the most-loving public, but of all people of culture as well.

Tickets for the entertainment have been placed on sale at Hoyt and Dows, Philbrick's drug store, and E. A. Gray's, Daniel street.
